Information:

The Flex MDB110F ceiling strip is designed for a stylish finish at the junction of wall and ceiling. Thanks to its flexible design, it perfectly adapts to surfaces with irregular shapes, such as arches or profiles. Made from a moisture-resistant material that is also UV-resistant and resilient to minor mechanical damage, it ensures durability and versatile applications, even in areas with high humidity. It allows for concealing wires, seam connections, and imperfections. Installation is easy with mounting glue, requiring no specialized tools. After installation, it needs to be painted with solvent-free paint in any color of your choice.
