Information:

The MDC258-12 corner unit is a decorative finishing element that complements the MDC258 frame. It features a subtly curved arch and precise embellishments. Made from lightweight ProFoam material, it is resistant to moisture and UV radiation, ensuring durability and an aesthetically pleasing appearance over time. Its lightweight nature makes installation easy, using adhesive applied to the edge. It can be used in any room as a standalone decoration or as part of a larger wall composition.
